ESMA corrects double volume cap results

PUBLISHED JUL 12, 2022
BY EUROPA

The European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA), the EU's securities markets regulator, updates today the double volume cap (DVC) publication following a data correction submitted by a reporting entity. This data correction impacts the results for five ISINs for which the suspension is erroneously revoked from today 12 July 2022.

In these circumstances, ESMA has exceptionally retriggered the DVC calculations for the five concerned ISINs and re-publishes today four individual files and the results in the suspension file, with the new dates below:

The suspension of the five ISINs above which ended today 12 July as per the previous DVC publication on 7 July 2022 are then expected to be resumed from 18 July 2022 and end on the suspension end dates provided in the table above.
