The Global Alliance for YOUTh has announced today its ambition to impact 6 million young people, helping them build employability skills.

The Global Alliance for YOUTh is a business-driven movement of like-minded organizations passionate about working together to help young people around the globe get the necessary skills to thrive in the world of work, today and tomorrow.

According to The World Economic Forum, over 60% of children entering primary school today will have jobs that do not exist yet. At the same time, the World Bank estimates that 60% of the world's population remains excluded from the ever-expanding digital economy. Four billion people around the globe still lack access to the internet.
