Telefónica Tech digitalises Stolt Sea Farm’s aquaculture farms with AI

PUBLISHED APR 20, 2023
BY TELEFÓNICA

• Telefónica Tech is developing a five-year plan that will allow Stolt Sea Farm to digitalise its production and have the capacity to predict the supply and demand of fish thanks to the application of advanced analytics with Big Data and Artificial Intelligence.
• Both companies have explained at the Advanced Factories 2023 congress, to be held in Barcelona between 18 and 20 April, how technology helps to optimise the aquaculture business. Telefónica Tech also present four demos and participate in sessions on predictive maintenance and the potential of LIVALL's smart hull in the industrial sector.
