ID. Buzz and ID. Buzz Cargo debut as all-electric multi-talents

- New ID. Buzz takes seven decades of Microbus expertise into the future
- Digital world premiere on 9 March at 7:00 pm (CET) via live stream
- Extensive press material available afterwards from the Volkswagen Newsroom

It's getting exciting: on Wednesday, 9 March at 7:00 pm (CET), Volkswagen and Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles will present the ID. Buzz at a digital world premiere. The ID. Buzz is the most emotional member of the all-electric ID. family to date, taking the DNA of the legendary Volkswagen T1 of 1950 forward into the future with its unique design, innovative technology and progressive sustainability. It is to be launched this year as a five-seater bus and cargo version with zero local emissions.

Like the other models in the ID. family, the electrically powered all-rounder is based on the modular electric drive matrix (MEB). The low centre of gravity of the battery pack, which is installed flat in the floor, enables a high level of agility, the typical Microbus seating position, plenty of space and flexibility as well as a roomy feel in the interior. In addition to its unique design, efficient electric drive and innovative sustainability, the ID. Buzz features today's leading automotive trends. With the very latest ID. software, intelligent networking of assistance and information systems and over-the-air updates, it also provides the technical basis for the autonomous shuttles that will be used for mobility services from 2025 onwards.

There is a huge sense of anticipation as we look forward to the digital world premiere of the ID. Buzz on 9 March from 7:00 pm (CET) via live stream | Volkswagen Newsroom (volkswagen-newsroom.com). Afterwards, extensive press material will be available from the Volkswagen Newsroom, including the press kit, numerous photos and video footage. An embedded link is also available so that the stream can be integrated in other websites. The English live stream will also be shown on YouTube.
